

Teachers, researchers and graduate students of the department participate in international conferences and symposia taking place in Kazakhstan, Poland, Russia, Czech Republic and others.

INTERNATIONAL PARTNERS

Institute of Low Temperature Science, University of Hokkaido (Japan) (Academic Exchange Agreement between Faculty of Technical Systems and Energy Efficient Technologies, Sumy State University (Ukraine) and Institute of Low Temperature Science, Hokkaido University (Japan), June 2020)

Institute of Environmental Engineering, Technical University of Kosice (Slovak Republic) (Cooperation Agreement between Faculty of Technical Systems and Energy Efficient Technologies, Sumy State University (Ukraine) and Faculty of Civil Engineering, Technical University of Kosice (Slovak Republic, May 2018))

University of Koblenz-Landau (Germany)

University of Natural Sciences in Lublin (Poland) Department of Environmental Engineering and Geodesy.

University of Natural Sciences in Poznan (Poland) Institute of Biosystems Engineering. Laboratory of Ecotechnologies.

University of Tubu (Japan)

Czech University of Natural Sciences in Prague (Czech Republic) Faculty of Tropical Agriculture. Biogas Research Group.

University of Natural Resources and Life Sciences (Austria)

Technical University of Berlin (Germany)

University of Linköping (Sweden) (Memorandum of Understanding between the Department of Ecology and Environmental Protection Technology, Sumy State University, Ukraine and the Department of Thematic Studies - Environmental Change, Linköping University, Sweden, October 2020).